probate court, Judge Edward M. Burke presiding, the will of Benjamin F. Underwood, late of Quincy, Ill., a native and former resident of Westerly, and who died here, was admitted to probate. Mr. Underwood was for many years of the editorial staff of the Quincy Journal and he named as executor of the will Henry A. Fry, also of the editorial staff of the Journal, the only member of the staff whose term was longer than that of Mr. Underwood. Under the terms of the will the real estate and building at 29 Tower street, Westerly, is given to his brother. Orion L. Underwood, who resides here, and the rest and residue of the estate was left in trust to Mr. Fry in the interest and support of the wife of the testator, she being then under treatment for mental disease in a hospital established for the treatment of such diseases.

The will stated that the testator had no heirs except his brother Orion and several nephews and nieces, and that upon the death of Mrs. Underwood all of the estate should go to the brother. Mrs. Underwood has since died and therefore Mr. Fry declined to accept The census enumerators have com-

Mrs. Underwood has since died and therefore Mr. Fry declined to accept the executorship of the estate. Judge Burke appointed Dr. C. Grant Savage administrator with will annexed and fixed the bond at $6.000 to cover personal property. The appraisers are Everett E. Whipple, Eugene B. Pendleton and James W. Burke.

The inventory of the estate of William C. Casicori, showing value of $500, was received and ordered recorded. Petition to mortgage the real estate for not more than $500 was granted and the bond was fixed at $500.

Affidavit was received from the appraisers of the estate of Ida E. Snivley reporting that there was no estate to the formation of the town.

The stockhouse, and the engine and boiler house of the old quarry of Joseph Newall and company, at Bradford, with all contents, such as channelling bars, steam drills, bushings, etc. were totally destroyed by a fire discovered about 9 o'clock Saturday night, entailing a loss of about $3,000. At that time the stockhouse was ablaze and the fire soon spread to the boiler and engine house. The barn, which contained a large quantity of hay, was saved. Much valuable material was emoved from the stockhouse over a month ago.

Officers of the company believe the fire was of incendiary origin and state that three weeks ago a fire was start-ed in the compressing room and a part of the sills of the building burned. It the belief that the party who set the fire relented and extinguished the blaze with water from nearby tubs to be used in case of fire.
